

Polarization is defined relative to the plane of incidence, i.e. the plane that contains the incoming and reflected rays as well as the normal to the sample surface.

Perpendicular (s-) polarization is the polarization where the electric field is perpendicular to the plane of incidence, while parallel (p-) polarization is the polarization where the electric field is parallel to the plane of incidence.